

Cincinnati Resource Bank

This bank is a non-comprehensive representation of the community resources available in the greater Cincinnati area. It is intended to be used as a referral system, i.e. if a patient is looking for a food pantry, the phone number can be pulled from this bank and given to the patient to call

Each resource listing has the name, phone number, website, relevant notes, and date verified. Notes include such information as program description, eligibility requirements, insider tips from our/our patients' experiences with the program, etc.

Resources are divided into tabs listed at the bottom. If a resource fits in more than one category, it will be reflected in all the tabs it applies to

Data compiled by Grace Murphy and John Leibold, University of Cincinnati College of Medicine Class of 2026 during the summer of 2023 at Crossroad Health Center through the Urban Health Project. Any updates to the bank will be reflected in the "verified" column of the respective resource

Resources found using the expertise/databases of Cassie Lewis, Braedy Hall, and Jaclyn Halverstadt, Claire Mitchell at UC Family Medicine at Belterra Race Track, Kaitlyn Hardesty and Caroline Hazapis at First Step Home, findhelp.org, Google, and word of mouth

Any questions, comments, edits, additions, etc. should be directed to Grace (murphygc@mail.uc.edu) or John (leiboljp@mail.uc.edu)
